What is the professional theatre mentoring aspect of YPF?

Mentors are directors or playwrights from Michigan and around the Mid-West who are currently working in the professional theatre and have had experience working with young people. Once the six finalists are selected they will be assigned a mentor. For the next 4-5 weeks playwrights and their mentors will work to make revisions in the script. Communication will be by email, phone or both. While everyone has time constraints it is assumed that mentors and playwrights will spend about 2-3 hours a week working together with the playwright spending some additional time outside of those discussions to revise the play. Once the revisions are completed the revised plays will be sent to MSU Dept. of Theatre in preparation for rehearsals. Playwrights are required to revise their plays during this process.

At present the mentors for 2013 are: Joe Giardina, New York City Theatre Artist, Seth Gordon, Associate Artistic Director, Repertory Theatre of St. Louis; Stephen Skiles, Xavier University, Affiliated with the Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park; Pamela Sterling, Associate Professor of Theatre and Director, Herberger Inst. of Design and Arts/School of Theatre and Film/Arizona State University; José Cruz Gonzalez, Award Winning Playwright, Los Angeles; Michael Haney, Associate Artistic Director Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park.

What is happening during the weekend of May 11 and 12, 2013?

On Saturday, May 11, mentors will gather at the Wharton Center with their playwrights to meet each other and then watch a dress rehearsal of their play. This will be followed by a period of discussion about seeing the play for the first time. This will be an afternoon session. On Sunday, May 12, playwrights and mentors will watch the public performance of the plays at 1:30pm. This will be followed by the awards ceremony. From approximately 4:00pm to 8:30pm all playwrights, mentors, directors and actors will meet for an ARTIST'S FORUM where each play and production will be discussed. The forum will be moderated by one of the mentors. We will provide a lite supper and beverages during this event. Finalist playwrights may invite up to four guests to the May 12th ARTIST'S FORUM.

ALL SIX FINALISTS WILL BE REQUIRED TO ATTEND BOTH SESSIONS ON MAY 11 & 12TH.

HOW TO WRITE IN PLAYSRIPT FORMAT

[As soon as you write something creative, it is automatically copyrighted as yours. You can also call the copyright people in Washington, D.C. who are nice and helpful or mail a copy of the manuscript to yourself to keep sealed until that moment in court when you get to use it as proof. Meantime you should always put the © down with your name and date so people are reminded they aren't supposed to steal your characters or words. Titles can't be copyrighted and anyone can use them.]

ACT ONE

Scene 1

A stage in a small edgy big city theater. There are two chairs CS [center stage]. The THEATER DIRECTOR, a young, edgy, big city guy is sitting in one of them. The PLAYWRIGHT enters. Like all playwrights, this character is so charismatic some of the spotlights implode trying so hard to compete with intense light as PLAYWRIGHT walks toward other chair.

THEATER DIRECTOR

Do you know how to write dialogue in format?

PLAYWRIGHT

Haven't a clue.

THEATER DIRECTOR

You center the name of the character talking and put the name in caps....that's short for capital letters.

PLAYWRIGHT

Is that right.

THEATER DIRECTOR

Then you write the dialogue without quotation marks. Then you space and do the same thing with the character talking back.

PLAYWRIGHT

And being confrontational? Talking back and giving the first character a hard time? I mean if I were to start arguing with you? If I were to get loud? (Shouts) If I were to be a very misunderstood kind of character who won't...BEHAVE!

THEATER DIRECTOR
That would make for conflict and interest and good theater.

PLAYWRIGHT
So if I just have people saying nothing much about anything...? If they just talk about what interests me and nothing much happens, it's not so good?

THEATER DIRECTOR
(Snoring. Wakes up)
...huh? Right! Yes. You'll put everyone to sleep if your characters have no conflict.

PLAYWRIGHT
What if I want to write some action that happens without any dialogue going on?

Then you describe it over here as succinctly as possible. You also have to put any characters you refer to in caps. In other words, if the PLAYWRIGHT is going to walk DS or US [downstage – toward the audience – or upstage – toward the back] or SL or SR [stage left which is the actor's left or stage right, the actor's right] you describe it over here. It should be significant. Don't write a novel here. And don't direct the play's dialogue. The directors like to do that and can get kind of huffy if you do their job for them. And don't have a character doing what that character wouldn't be caught dead doing. The actors like to become real people and if you make their characters into jerks they can get pretty steamed.

PLAYWRIGHT
(Leaning toward DIRECTOR)
What if, like, my friends? They all like talk like this? Can I, like, write dialogue like...you know...like they really talk?

(Beat) [This means you want the actors to wait a second as though they are thinking or need a little time to react. If you want them to wait a longer time, use (Pause).]

DIRECTOR

Please do. Although with only a few lines of dialogue, you could make your friends sound intelligent. You could also place them in the last century or a thousand years in the future and you can also set them down in any kind of place you'd like.

PLAYWRIGHT

Like a cave? Or a racetrack? Or a funeral? Or the middle of the ocean?

DIRECTOR

Assuming they can swim.
(Pause.)

PLAYWRIGHT

I can do anything.

DIRECTOR

Exactly. Just put it in the right format and we'll believe every word.
